

Workshop on Climate Change and Finance

Co-organised by the Foundation for European Progressive Studies (FEPS)
and the Greenwich Political Economy Research Centre (GPERC)
University of Greenwich Maritime Campus, Queen Anne Court, room 180

Wednesday, 23 May 2018

PROGRAMME

17:00 - 19:15: Panel session

Chair: Charlotte Billingham (FEPS)

Hector Pollitt (Cambridge Econometrics): Looking beyond crowding out: Assessing climate policies in a post-Keynesian framework

Yannis Dafermos (University of the West of England) and Maria Nikolaidi (University of Greenwich): Climate change and green finance policies

Etienne Espagne (AFD): Climate damages, carbon pricing and beyond

Rob Macquarie (Positive Money): A green Bank of England

Sini Matikainen (LSE): Climate change, central banks and financial regulators

19:15 - 20:00: Reception

RSVP

This joint activity received financial support from the European Parliament

Getting to Greenwich Campus

About GREENWICH POLITICAL ECONOMY RESEARCH CENTRE – GPERC

GPERC brings together an innovative group of researchers who want to expand the knowledge frontier by challenging orthodoxies in economic and social science research. The aim of GPERC is to encourage interdisciplinary analysis of the linkages between institutions, power structures and economic dynamics with a view to:

- Enhance knowledge of the pressing problems of our time such as inequalities, unemployment, climate change, energy crisis, housing crisis, care deficit, ageing, productivity, innovation, and technological change;
- Expand the range of evidence-informed and progressive options for policy and practice.

Please visit our website for the Greenwich Papers in Political Economy, GPERC Policy Briefs, other publications, and forthcoming events.

GPERC also has a research collaboration with the Foundation for European Progressive Studies (FEPS).

Follow us on facebook and twitter.