

Conference Abstracts & Biographies

2A – Investinblue – The Value of Maritime Heritage to the Blue Economy (Part One)

National Historic Ships – The social and economic potential of historic vessels in the UK

Hannah Cunliffe, Director, National Historic Ships UK

Hannah Cunliffe

Director, National Historic Ships UK

Hannah Cunliffe holds the current position of Director of National Historic Ships UK and is responsible for the overall management and day-to-day direction of the organisation. She plays a key role in developing national policy for historic vessels, seeking additional funds for vessel related projects and providing expert advice to the Heritage Lottery Fund and other grant-giving bodies as required. Hannah previously worked as Policy & Project Manager for National Historic Ships, prior to which she completed a Masters in Maritime History at the University of Greenwich whilst working as a freelance maritime researcher and consultant. She spent her childhood sailing on a Bristol Channel pilot cutter.