Welcome

by the Vice-Chancellor

I am so delighted to be celebrating your successes with you today as we mark the culmination of your time at the University of Greenwich. Most of you finished your studies with us last year and we were unable to celebrate with you in person. It is very special to be able to finally celebrate your achievements today after such a challenging time and to meet you in person in our wonderful venues.

I know you will not be defined by this pandemic. You have met the challenges you faced head-on and your commitment to your studies, your personal and professional development and your own success has been incredible to see.

Today your resilience is rewarded. This is your time a time to celebrate your success which is the result of your hard work and commitment with your friends and families.

As a graduate of the University of Greenwich, I know you will carry with you the Greenwich values of being inclusive, collaborative and impactful in all that you do. I know that you will be a positive force for change and I hope that we at Greenwich – your tutors, your peers, your supporters – have played a part in helping you to realise your potential.

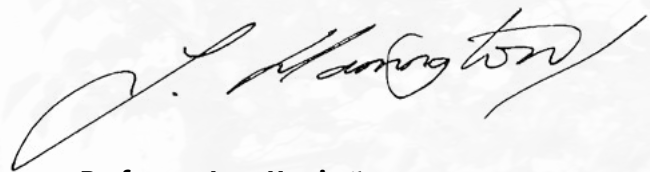

Student success – your success – is at the heart of everything we do here. Our aim is to provide personalised, individual support which will empower you to take your next step, whatever that might be.

I am so pleased so many of you found your place at Greenwich. Your membership of the Greenwich alumni community is designed to support you at every stage of your future career and I hope that you have already started making use of the tools available to you, from the online Ask Alumni community, to postgraduate study discount and access to the Employability and Careers Service. Please take the opportunity to explore all your benefits on our website.

Please keep in touch with the university as your career progresses by providing the Alumni Team with your updated contact and career details as they change and sharing your graduate story by submitting a Greenwich Snapshot.

I look forward to following and celebrating all your future successes. Congratulations on everything you have achieved and good luck for your future. Always be the best version of yourself.

I know you will continue to make Greenwich proud.

Professor Jane Harrington
Vice-Chancellor, University of Greenwich

The Rt Hon the Lord Boateng

PC DL, Chancellor

Graduation is a significant event, a cause for celebration and congratulation, for reflection and renewal. This is, for each of you, a remarkable and highly personal achievement. I want to extend the heartfelt congratulations of not just the university community but the wider community too.

We herald what you have done and look forward to all that you are going to do henceforth. You leave university equipped to make a contribution to a global community that has never needed you more than at this moment.

This wider community needs your skills, of course, and the learning you have acquired during your time with us in Greenwich. The world needs your passion and enthusiasm and your capacity for critical and innovative thinking. Our planet has had a wake up call. The pandemic has exposed our vulnerabilities and highlighted the gross inequalities and divisions which still afflict our societies. All of this against the backdrop of the existential threat that is presented by the climate crisis.

You now hold the key utilising your skills and qualities to building a better future for yourselves and us all. In completing your courses at such a time you have already demonstrated a remarkable resilience. I thank you for that and I thank the families that have stood alongside and behind you so that you may arrive at this particular moment in your lives.

We are a diverse community at the university of Greenwich from many different lands and backgrounds. This is what makes us a vibrant force for good in a world that needs to come together and set aside boundaries of nation, ethnicity, gender and sexuality and to better represent a shared humanity.

I was brought up in Ghana and spent part of my working life in South Africa. I learnt from this the value of what is known as the “Ubuntu Principle” which in translation is reflected in the phrase “We are what we are because of others”. The “others” are of course made up of the family, friends and teachers who have made possible and enriched your university experience. But also all those “others” many as yet unknown to you whose lives you will touch going forward as you proceed along your chosen path.

Value, respect and nurture all these relationships, for they, not just your academic qualifications, will determine your success. This is to be measured not just in terms of your career but also in the extent to which you have contributed to leaving this world in a better state than you found it.

So, graduates of 2021, as your Chancellor let me share a final word of exhortation

!Vikuzenzele!

Get Up! Get Out there!
Go for it!

Congratulations

Congratulations on your graduation. I am proud and honoured to be sending you a message on this important occasion. I hope your time and learning at the University of Greenwich will stand you in good stead for an interesting and fulfilling future.

As students, you have worked extremely hard to get where you are today. You leave with pride in everything you have achieved, especially following such a challenging year. You should be so proud of yourselves. You now have the opportunity to celebrate your successes.

The Universities at Medway are very important to the region and our students graduate with skills and abilities which make the area, region and country a better place.

You have played a vital role in the history of this impressive establishment and I am sure you have utilised this opportunity and learned from the great lectures to use your studies in your professional life. You leave with HOPE

H - having

O - only

P - positive

E - expectations

There are some truly exciting times ahead for Medway including our bid to become City of Culture in 2025, which will create a legacy of opportunities for local people and bring significant economic benefits to the area, and our aspirations to become a Child-Friendly City, putting children and young people at the heart of everything we do.

We hope you keep in touch and come back and visit, as I'm sure you know, there are plenty of things to do.

Cllr Jan Aldous
Mayor of Medway

On behalf of the Royal Borough of Greenwich, it gives me great pleasure to congratulate you on your well-deserved success and your academic achievement. I hope you had lots of fun and made some life-long friends on the way. This is a proud moment for you and your family but it's also a proud moment for the Royal Borough. I am, myself, a graduate of the University of Greenwich so I understand how thrilled you must be at this moment. I went on to teach in the borough for the duration of my career in education. It is a wonderful place to live and even raise a family in, so consider staying on.

In these difficult times, you have shown resilience and perseverance and these are qualities that can be built on and taken forward in your working life. Hard work, talent, drive and vision always outlast tough times.

I am sure today will just be the first of many such proud successes for you in your life.

Please join the Alumni of the university so you can put something back! "Proud to be GRE.

Best wishes for a healthy, happy and successful future. Once again, well done!

Councillor Denise Hyland,
Mayor of Royal Greenwich

Your Alumni Community

Your membership to the Greenwich community is automatic, free and lifelong. It is a powerful resource to help you navigate and progress in your graduate career. You may have already begun exploring the opportunities being a Greenwich graduate offers. However, if you are unsure about what to do next now that you are graduating, we have some suggestions to help you.

Connect with the Greenwich community

Ask Alumni is an online community for the university, where you can broaden your professional and social networks, share career insights, develop mentoring relationships with alumni in industry, and discover new opportunities to boost your development.

 Register/sign in and start making connections.

Boost your career development

As a recent graduate, you can access support from the Employability and Careers Service (ECS) for up to two years after completing your studies. ECS can help you find graduate roles and offer support through 1-2-1 appointments, a jobs board, CV builders and psychometric test training.

 Discover how ECS supports graduates.

Save money on further study

If you are considering postgraduate study, you can take advantage of a discount of up to £1000 against the costs of your study at the university.

 Learn more about alumni postgraduate discount

Enjoy exclusive discounts

While you may no longer enjoy all of your student discounts, you can still make great savings. Get exclusive access to TOTUM Pro, a benefits service designed especially for graduates and professional learners. Enjoy discounts with 200+ brands, including Boots, Apple and Co-Op.

 Start saving with TOTUM Pro.

Grow your business idea

Natasha Parker

BSc Forensic Science, 2016

Crime Scene Investigator, Kent Police

“I have always loved forensics and wanted to work in the field. I chose Greenwich after going to an Open Day. I was taken back by the Medway campus and the members of the faculty whom I met on the day.

I really enjoyed studying at the university and everything about the Forensic Science programme. I miss Charlie Pilbeam-Bailey and Linda Brownlow pushing me and my course mates to do our best.

I have been working for Kent Police for four and a half years, three and a half of those as a CSI. I hope to move over to Forensic Collision Investigation in the future.

For anyone about to enter the job market, I encourage you to join the organisation you want to work for in any capacity, as applying for your dream job internally is much easier than applying externally.”

Mike Davis

MSc Biomedical Science, 2018

Quality Manager/Senior Scientist, Health Service Executive, Ireland (South/South West Region)

“I shared my graduation day with my family (the reason for every achievement so far), and it’s a day that I will never forget. Up to this point in my life, I had received many qualifications, all from professional bodies or institutions, but in July 2018, I graduated as a Master of Sciences from the University of Greenwich. There is something about being a graduate from a university that was ingrained deep within me, and I had finally reached this goal at age 56.

If you’re deciding what your next steps are, remember to take time to figure out what you want, break the progression to your goal into smaller parts and go to work.

Absolutely expect that things will go wrong, and the plan may have to change, (life gets in the way), but don’t give up... there is always a way around each setback. I know this since I started the then equivalent for Biomedical Scientists (Fellowship of the Institute) in 1990 and eventually got there in 2018. Life got in the way, but I didn’t give up.”

Shamima Alom

BSc Chemistry, 2020

Graduate Recruitment Assistant, University of Greenwich

“One word to describe my course would be inspiring as my knowledge was not only challenged every day, but it also equipped me for the real world. The lecturers have always been very supportive and genuinely cared for the student experience, even after leaving university.

During my virtual graduation, I was awarded the Evelyn de Barry Barnet Prize for Best Chemistry Student. However, I certainly believe that I wouldn't have been awarded the prize if it weren't for the support system that I received throughout my degree.

While I was studying at University of Greenwich, I worked part-time as a student ambassador. In particular, I worked with the Student Recruitment Team, where I had the opportunity to build and develop my skills, leading to my current role as Graduate Recruitment Assistant. This job may not be directly associated with the degree that I have. However, the skills gained from my Chemistry degree have certainly helped me to thrive in my current role.

As a recent graduate, I believe that this is my beginning in the working world, and I want to see the many aspects that a degree in chemistry can bring to me. I have begun my postgraduate degree in Drug Development Science at King's College London, as I am interested in the pharmaceutical side of chemistry. I look forward to broadening my experience and carry forward my knowledge from the University of Greenwich.”

Medway School of Pharmacy

Messages from staff

Monday 6 September 2021

Very many congratulations to all our graduates, whether you studied pharmacy, physiology and pharmacology, or prescribing. The last 18 months have been incredibly tough for everyone and you thoroughly deserve your degrees. Take time to relax and enjoy being a graduate. Remember all the good things about MSOP, the knowledge you have attained, the skills you have developed, and the friends that you have made who will remain with you forever. Look forward confidently to the next stage of your life and enjoy all the challenges ahead. It's been great working with you over the last few years and I wish you all the very best for the future.

Prof Susan Barker

Congratulations on successfully completing your Master of Pharmacy degree. It is a great achievement which should be celebrated, so well done.

It has been a joy working with you over the years and I wish you the very best for the future.

Best wishes,

Dr Bhamra

You have been exceptional in the past four years, more so through the pandemic when you had to navigate the most chaotic circumstances in a lifetime to keep your lives and studies going. Your efforts and time spent in university have been worthwhile and today, you receive a well-deserved honour in the presence of your family and friends who have always believed in you. I join in this celebration as your favourite lecturer and biggest fan and say a big congratulations. My prayer for you is to be blessed throughout the journey ahead, to have the wisdom and courage to make the best of opportunities that come your way and above all, total wellbeing, and happiness in whatever career path you choose.

Dr Francis Brako

Warmest congratulations to all of you on this momentous occasion!

You have worked hard during the past years and have overcome challenges such as the COVID -19 pandemic, to earn your well-deserved place at the graduation podium to collect your award. It has been a pleasure watching you grow from students into graduates.

As you embark on your wonderful chosen careers, I wish you all the very best for the future. Go for it!

Dr Branch

Dear graduates

You are about to graduate - can you believe it! It seemed like it was Welcome Week not that long ago. You now have so much more experience behind you - both academically and of life. And not forgetting the friends you have made. I know I have very much loved to see you all develop and grow as individuals during your time with us. I have spent extra time with many of you (eg chat at end of lecture, workshops, etc), so I especially write this with you in mind: keep being you, keep striving forward and keep doing your best and you will keep making us proud to have helped you on your journey. Especially given what you have overcome to graduate with a backdrop of a global pandemic (make sure to put that on your CV #nemeanfeat). Look out world - here come the MSOP graduates!

My very best wishes,

Dr Edwards

Congratulations to all the students graduating from the Prescribing Programme. Excellent effort by everyone on what is a tough programme. Best wishes from all at the Prescribing Team.

Mr Colin Waldock

Messages from staff

Tuesday 7 September 2021

As Head of the School of Science, it makes me incredibly proud to see all that you have achieved throughout your time at Greenwich and especially over such a challenging last 18 months. Congratulations to you all, you are a credit to your university and all the best for the future.

Professor Adrian Dobbs

Head of School of Science

Congratulations to the Class of 2020 and 2021 who have persevered through covid and embraced online teaching and succeeded: may you have many more successes in the future! Best Wishes.

Professor Jeremy Everett

Professor of Pharmaceutical Technologies, Co-Leader, Medway Metabonomics Research Group,
Deputy Course Leader BSc Pharmaceutical Science

Many congratulations to all Greenwich graduates of 2020 and 2021! Your resilience, enthusiasm, positivity and desire to learn despite the difficulties and challenges brought by studying in the middle of a pandemic has been an inspiration! Working with you in this last year and seeing you rising to the challenge, growing in confidence while supporting each other has been a real privilege. We are very proud of you all!

Giulia Getti

Associate Professor in Microbiology
Programme Leader for MSc Biomedical Science on-line

No matter where life takes you, be proud of what you've accomplished. Whatever you decide to do I hope it makes you happy. You all deserve to be happy.

Charlie Pilbeam-Bailey

Forensic Science Lecturer, Course Coordinator & Staff Mental Health Champion

To the resilient class of 2020 and 2021. Congratulations for your great accomplishments at the University of Greenwich. Go and give the world the best you have.

Lauren Pecorino

Professor of Cancer Biology, School of Science

I want to congratulate you all on your achievements over the last two years, undoubtedly it has been tough, but even in adversity you have excelled – well done.

Linda Brownlow

Deputy Head of Science

Congratulations on your achievement!
Believe in yourself, keep learning, and don't be afraid to challenge yourself in life and in your career.
All best wishes for your future.

Amy Austin

Senior Lecturer, School of Engineering

Well done Hadlow students graduating in 2020 and 2021! Your extra efforts and the challenges you faced make your excellent results even more deserved.

Elinor Thompson

Hadlow Link Tutor, Faculty of Engineering and Science

Very many congratulations to our graduating Engineers. You have gone through one of the most exciting periods of your life during one of the most difficult periods of modern history. Indeed, it shouldn't be forgotten that you've endured not just one year of "on-line teaching and exams" but nearly two. I take my hat off to you, and indeed your generation, for your generosity and resilience in fighting for your degrees but also in your contributions to bringing normal life back to us all. I hope you find fortune and success in whatever you choose to do and please remember us fondly.

Professor Phil Cox

Head of School of Engineering

Congratulations to you all. We wish you every success in your future career.

Faculty Admin Team

Engineering and Science

Well done to all of you for having successfully completed the MSc Applied Food Safety and Quality Management. You never thought when you started the programme that things would go the way that they did. Despite all of the difficulties, you made a supreme effort and graduated. You should be proud of your achievement. Now, you can take your knowledge and experience and put it into practice. The whole team congratulates you and we hope that you stay in touch and share your future successes with us.

Dr Richard Fuchs

Programme Leader MSc Applied Food Safety and Quality Management
Natural Resources Institute

Very many congratulations to the graduating classes of 2020 and 2021. You have achieved so much under conditions which were unforeseeable a few years ago. I and the Programme Team wish you all the best for the future.
